SUNDAY SCHOOL CELEBRA-

The Second Presbyterian Church was filled last night by teachers, scholars teams played hard and contributed his and friends to witness the Christmas share towards the final score. celebration of the Sunday school of that Fort Hunt church. An interesting programme had been prepared and it was well rendered. Mr. W. H. Melchior, the superintendent, conducted the exercises, and the pastor, Rev. J. R. Savier, delivered an interesting address. The celebration closed with the distribution of remembrances to the scholars and the awarding of [gifts to the pastor, teachers and others. The collection during the even-School and Home at Fredericksburg. I'me cold weather of last night did not prevent Grace Church from being well filled at the Sunday school Christmas entertainment. Rev. Edgar Carpenter conducted the services. Miss S ella Moore played the organ, Mr. Maurice S:mpson and Mr. Herbert Hall played violins, and Mr. Plitt, with the cornet, gave the children a good lead to be tendered the retiring commissionand the carols were never rendered ers, Messrs. The church was beautifully decorated with bolly and a large electric star was suspended over the chancel. The paster of the caurch was presented with a purse ! of money and the superintendent and other officers received handsome gifts. Charles Estwisle and Sylvester Archer received gold medals from their teacher for not having missed a single session of the school, and the school presented them Bibles. Marion Arnell, Edward Brown and Herbert Byrne were also presented with Bibles for not having their Christmas calebration tonight.

FUNERALS.

The faperal of the late Miss Emma Wright, who died in Washington Monday last, took place at 10 o'clock this morning from the chapel at Mr. B. Wheatley's undertaking establishment. The interment was in Ivy Hill cemetery. Rev. J. R. Sevier, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, conducted the services, and the pallbearers were Messra F. M. Hill, Zoro Hill, R. M. Latham and R. Lee Field.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Eva L. Entwisle, wife of Mr. Beartine Entwisle, who died Monday night, took place this afternoon from the residence, 114 south St. Asaph street. Rev. J. R. Savier assisted by Ravs. Carpenter and Holmes, conducted the services, and the pallbearers were Messrs. Vandusen and A. J. Butcher, president; L. Bowman, Archie Smith, of Washington, and vice president; J. Peed, warden; L. H. Archie Smith, of Washington, and John Waddy, Henry Phillips, Wm. P. Taylor, and Samuel Pitts.

THE POLAR WAVE.

The frigid weather which settled over this vicinity last week is still lingering, last night having been the coldest experienced hereabouts for several years. The porthwest wind blew furiously throughout the night, and the mercury at 6 o'clock this morning was down to 8°. Many bydrants were frezen and the streets are covered with ice and snow.

The river fre Z : over during the night, and ice extends down as far as Piney Point. The steamer Norfolk strived up this morning about two hours late, and the St. Johns, also from Norfolk, was four hours behied ber schedale time in reaching this port. The steamer Capital Oity left list night for river landings, but the Wakefield and the Trenton did not go down this morning.

At noon today the mercury had risen to 18°.

VEILED PROPHETS.

With impressive ceramonies the degree of Veiled Prophet was conferred on twenty-seven (andidates last night at the second grand ceremonial session of Kallipolis Grotte, No. 15, at the new Masonic Temple, in Washington. Dr. W. F. R. Phillips acted as "his majety" and superintended the initia. tion exercises. Special acenery was used in giving a representation of "h.s msjesty'e" kingdom, in which wierd, fantastic figures sprang and leaped about in flumes. Judging by the sounds that came from the stage, the members of the initiation team spared no pains to make the initiation one that will be long remembered. Among those who received degrees were: A. E. Smoot, J. W. Biles, Thomas A. Fisher and J. P. Steiner, of Alexandria,
